SOUTHERN UNION GAS v. CITY OF AUSTIN

Mayor Cooksey made the following announcement as a result of the executive discussion on Southern Union Gas v. City of Austin.

Southern Union Gas will withdraw its rate appeal at the Texas Railroad Commission. SUG will reduce current rates by $1 million eliminating the interim rate increase approved by the Texas Railroad Commission. The Austin City Council will adopt a revised rate ordinance which reauthorizes the transportation charges for special customers agreed to on August 20, 1987, endeavors to redesign rates for intervening state agencies and AISD to make them revenue neutral, and implements the terms of the settlement agreement. Southern Union Gas Company and the City agree to amend the franchise agreement between them to:

- a. Eliminate Section 7.2 of the franchise agreement concerning capital improvements program expenses recovered through rates.
- b. Revise Section 4.6 of the franchise agreement to delete the specific requirement to spend 3% of gross revenues for conservation while retaining the continuing duty to support conservation and avoid duplication with other such programs.

Southern Union agrees to include franchise fees paid to the City of Austin in the base rates charged by the company to assure that there are uniform rates throughout the service area.

Unexpended conservation funds (estimated at between $500,000 and $600,000) will be used for future conservation projects subject to the City's reviews in future rate proceedings. The franchise agreement will require our obligation to engage in conservation programs during the term of the agreement. At the company's discretion, this could include subcontracting that responsibility.
